FOR CONSPIRACY.

Three More Indictments in Connection With the Post Office Department Scandals.

BEAVERS, GREEN AND TOWERS.

The Latter Appeared at the City Hall and Gave Bond in the Sum of $10,000.

The Expectation is That a Number of Other Post Office Indictments Will Be Returned By the Federal Grand Jury.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The grand jury of the supreme court of the District of Columbia Thursday brought in three more indictments in connection with the post office department investigation. One was a joint indictment against George W. Beavers, formerly chief of the salary and allowance division of the post office department, and State Senator George A. Green, of Binghamton, N. Y. This indictment was brought under Section 5440 of the revised statutes and is on the general ground that they entered into a conspiracy to defraud the government. This, it is alleged, they accomplished in the sale of time clocks from which sale they were enabled to reap a reward because of Mr. Beavers' connection with the department by which the clocks were purchased. The former indictment against Green and Beavers was under another section of the statutes and charged conspiracy against the United States.

The other two indictments were against Scott Towers, who has charge of one of the principal sub-post office stations in Washington. He is accused of having received a commission on the sale of book typewriting machines to the government in contravention of Sections 1781 and 1782 of the revised statutes which prohibit officers or employees of the United States from receiving other compensation than their salaries for procuring contracts from the government, or for services rendered.

Immediately after receiving information of the indictment of Towers the postmaster general issued an order to Postmaster Merritt, of Washington, dismissing Towers from office.

In joint indictment against Beavers and Green the specific accusation is that Green, as the agent of the International Time Recording Co., made an agreement with Beavers to the effect that if Beavers would allow Green to have the contract for furnishing the post office department with the time machines Beavers would receive as compensation for his services 10 per cent of the sales.

The two indictments against Towers alleged that he received in all about $1,800 for aiding a typewriter company to procure the contract for providing typewriters for various post offices and that he received $50 out of every $200 paid by the government to the company. Henry J. Gensler and Henry J. Gensler, jr., are named as the agents through whom Towers did business with the typewriting firm, which is a New York concern.

Towers appeared at the city hall Thursday afternoon with his attorney and gave bond in the sum of $10,000 for his appearance.

The present grand jury will adjourn finally next Monday and the expectation is that a number of other post office indictments will be returned on that day.

The judgment will amount to about $17,000, being money paid to Taylor soldiers. The decision also disposes of a similar suit against ex-State Treasurer Walter Day, who paid the vouchers issued from Rev. Sweeney's office.

BY THE THOUSANDS

The Organized Militia of Six States Poured In on Camp Young Thursday.

A QUIET DAY FOR THE REGULARS.

The Cavalry Brigade Spent the Morning Polishing Up For the Brigade Review in the Afternoon.

Twelve Hundred Men From the 1st, 3d and 20th Infantries Were Set to Work on a Series of Intrenchments.

Camp Young, West Point, Ky., Oct. 2.—The organized militia of six states poured in on Camp Young by the thousands Thursday and by night the greater portion of the 9,000 or more troops had arrived, although only about half of them had established permanent camp by nightfall. For the regular troops already in camp the day was rather a quiet one. The infantry put in a hard but uneventful stretch of work at digging intrenchments. The cavalry brigade spent the morning polishing up for a brigade review, which took place in the afternoon.

Twelve hundred men from the 1st, 3d and 20th infantries were set to work early in the day on a series of intrenchments with a front of about 1,700 feet. The time consumed and the quality of the work were appraised by Gen. Bates and the umpires. The principal object in throwing up the works, however, was that they might be used for the instruction of the officers of the state guard.

The review of the cavalry in the afternoon was attended by Gen. Bates, the umpires and nearly all the visiting officers, including Maj. Raspapoff and Col. Foster, the representatives of the Russian and British armies. The troops on review consisting of two squadrons of the 7th, a squadron of the 8th and two troops each of the 2d and 4th, made a decided impression on the foreign attaches. After they had passed in review the 7th was re-formed in line and to the accompaniment of music went through the first and second series of movements provided in the Butts manual for sabres.

TRIPLE ELECTROCUTION.

Three Brothers Paid the Penalty For Their Many Crimes.

Dannemora, N. Y., Oct. 2.—The triple execution of the three Van Wormer brothers was completed within 15 minutes Thursday. At 11:29 the witnesses started for the death chamber. At 11:32 Willis Van Wormer was summoned to the chair, which had already been tested. He entered the chair at 11:34½, and at 11:35½ the current was turned on. He was declared dead at 11:37.

Frederick entered the death chamber at 11:40:30, the current was turned on at 11:42 and Frederick was dead at 11:43.

Burton entered the death chamber at 11:47, received the current at 11:48 and was declared dead at 11:48:30.

This arrangement of the order of death was agreed upon by the boys themselves, after a long discussion. They decided that Willis should be permitted to go first, because of his ill-health and consequent weakness. Willis, throughout his long confinement here, has been afflicted with lung trouble.

Early in life the three brothers developed into a capacity for crime that would have qualified them for members in the worst gang of bandits that ever infested the western frontier.

For nearly two years before the culminating atrocity which has brought down upon them the extreme penalty of the law, they literally were bandits, open and defiant.

Their crimes culminated in the murder and robbery of their uncle, who had several times saved them from arrest by paying their victims.

TEXAS LYNCING.

Walter Davis, Colored, Hanged to a Tree By a Mob.

Marshall, Tex., Oct. 2.—Thursday night a mob of several hundred men forced their way through the brick wall of the city jail with the aid of a telephone pole and with sledge hammers and crowbars took out Walter Davis, a Negro, and marched him to the west side of town, where he was hanged to a tree.

The lynching was the result of the killing of Constable Hayes Thursday morning, while he was taking a Negro to jail. Hayes was shot from ambush, being literally riddled with bullets. Shortly after killing the constable Walter Davis and two other Negroes were arrested and lodged in jail at Marshall. A mob formed during the afternoon and attacked the jail. The Marshall Musketeers were ordered out and arrived at the jail after the mob had secured the Negro.

Mayors of a score of cities sat down to the evening banquet in their honor, attended by more than 400 residents of Chicago. At 7:30 o'clock the United States marine band of Washington began a concert in the Auditorium theater and one hour later the banqueters took seats on the platform to listen to Mayor Low's speech on "Civic Federation."

IN NICK OF TIME.

Prompt Work of Officials Prevented the Lynching of a Kentuckian at Oxford, O.

HE WAS STRUNG UP BY THE MOB

A Deputy Sheriff and His Assistants Rushed Forward, Cut the Rope and Escaped With Prisoner.

Five Persons Were Shot and Dangerously Wounded Previously in a Fight Between the Prisoners and the Officers.

Oxford, O., Oct. 2.—Five persons were shot and dangerously wounded Thursday night in a fight between officers and several strangers from Kentucky who were shooting their revolvers on the streets during the fair. Two of the Kentuckians were named Joseph and John Spivey. Marshal John Woodruff and his deputy, Jacob Manrod, endeavored to arrest them and were shot, Marshal Woodruff in the right breast and Deputy Manrod in the left wrist. A crowd started in pursuit of the Spivey brothers and overtook them. Joseph Spivey was shot in the right side with a load of buckshot and his brother was knocked unconscious with a stone thrown by some one in the crowd of pursuers. During the fight a stranger who refuses to give his name was shot in the abdomen and is in a dangerous condition. The Spiveys were arrested.

A large crowd followed and soon surrounded the jail. They had secured a rope and endeavored to take both Louis Spivey and Joseph Spivey out of the officers' hands, but they were frustrated by the officers. The mob also had no recognized leader, and were ineffectual in their desires. Finally Everett Woodruff, the father of the wounded marshal, appeared on the scene and expected the mob to avenge the murder of his son, himself directing the mob, the door of the jail was battered down and a long rope was fastened around the neck of Joseph Spivey and he was led forth. Fully one hundred men had hold of the rope and they dragged him through the street in the direction of the public park. Spivey begged and cried for mercy and implored the mob to allow him to see his wife and children before they hung him. Epithets and curses were heaped upon him, and he was dragged by the infuriated mob to the public park. When they came to the tree where 11 years ago a mob had lynched Henry Corbin, the Negro who killed Mrs. Horner, and murderously assaulted her daughter, a voice cried out to halt and to hang him. This tree was also the scene 25 years ago of a lynching of a Negro who had also assaulted a lady. The rope was swung around a limb and Spivey was jerked into midair. In their hurry the mob neglected to tie Spivey's hands and he grabbed the rope above his head and saved himself. He cried piteously and begged to be allowed to write a letter to his wife and children. A voice in the mob cried out to leave him down and the mob released the rope, and Spivey was given a pencil and paper. He vainly endeavored to write, but it was utterly unintelligible. A voice cried out, hang him, and the rope tightened and Spivey was again suspended in midair. He again grabbed the rope above his head and between stragulations begged and pleaded for an opportunity to write a letter to his wife and children. He was again let down but only repeated his former miserable efforts. There were in the mob a number of Negroes and they were greatly excited. A colored man raised his voice and said that if Spivey were a colored man, he would have been swung into eternity long ago. The rope again tightened and Spivey was suspended for a third time in midair. There was a sudden jostling, and Deputy Sheriff Brannan and a few assistants rushed forward, cut the rope and dashed down the street with the prisoner.

He was rushed to the jail and has been spirited out of town. John Spivey is dying with a bullet through his head. The stranger lives at Monroe, O., and will die. The marshal and deputy will recover.

A GREATER AND BETTER MAYSVILLE.

The BULLETIN is in hearty sympathy with any move looking to a greater and a better Maysville, and it endorses the suggestion of the Ledger that the first step in that direction is "the placing of men of means and business acumen in the City Council." The Council, along with the Mayor, has in its hands the direction and management of the affairs of the city, and it is of the highest importance that these municipal matters are under the direction of men who are among its leading citizens and who are vitally interested in our growth and development, along the various lines of commercial and industrial activity. The BULLETIN republishes the citizens ticket that has been suggested:

First Ward—Charles D. Pearce and John H. Dirch.
 Second Ward—Dr. J. A. Reed and G. S. Wall.
 Third Ward—T. A. Keith and J. I. Winter.
 Fourth Ward—J. B. Russell and J. T. Short.

REPUBLICANS VIOLATE LAWS TO GET CAMPAIGN FUNDS.

In their desperate effort to give Belknap a big vote in Louisville, Lexington, Covington and other of the larger cities in the State, Federal employees are being assessed by the Republican machine in violation of the laws of the United States. A circular letter requesting in polite terms a contribution to the campaign fund, but none the less concise and to the point, has been sent out by the Republican Campaign Committee. These letters were mailed to Republicans in general who it was thought might contribute to the fund, but to the internal revenue employees in particular, from whom the committee has all along calculated upon raising $10,000 or more in Louisville alone.

It is a direct and grave violation of the civil service laws for any government official to solicit money from another government official to be used for political purposes. It is likewise an infraction of civil service law for any one to solicit funds from a government official to be used for political purposes while that government official is about the discharge of his duties in his own office or any other office owned or occupied by the government.

In the Internal Revenue Department of the Fifth district are employed about 250 storekeeper-gaugers and storekeepers and gaugers. They receive salaries ranging from $115 to $70 a month, though the average is from $85 to $90 a month. From time immemorial, so long as the Republican party has controlled the national administration, this corps of storekeepers and gaugers has been looked upon as a valuable asset when it came to raising money for campaign purposes.

For this campaign the word has been passed along from the campaign committee that a donation of $50 from the storekeepers and gaugers who have regular assignments and steady work will be "appreciated," and from those who have not regular work, but only serve during the busy seasons, donations ranging from $25 to $40 would be "gladly received."

Carlisle Mercury: "The Mason County Democrats have instructed for Hon. L. W. Robertson for State Senator, and he will doubtless be nominated. Hon. W. H. Cox is the Republican nominee. Mason is bound to have a gentleman for her Senator."

ASTONISHING AERIAL ACTS.

Some Dangerous and Thrilling Performances in the Circus.

Among the many marvelous aerial acts that are this season presented with the Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth are several deserving of special mention, in consequence of their extraordinary character. There is one where, while the daring artists hang head-downward from the aerial horizontal bars, they throw one of their number forward and backward, catching the human ball first by the feet and then by the hands, then again by one hand, one foot, and around the body. The act has been aptly termed "the human return ball," and as it takes place in the air far above the heads of the audience is both a thrilling, perilous and daring exploit. Another mysterious performance is when Cyclo, the Kinetic Demon, make his wonderful ride, in which he defies death and the law of gravitation, while riding at right angles to a perpendicular plane, to the amazement and astonishment of the visitors. All these acts are highly thrilling and sensational, as are also all the feats of the troupes of aerialists, and the dashing and daring acts by the army of graceful and expert male and female equestrians. The hippodrome races, too, are revelations in style, courage, and the desperate manner in which they are contested. The double menageries containing three herds of elephants, drove of camels, cages of wild beasts, and many curious animals in leash, is a very wonderful place to spend the hour before the performances begin. Here also are male and female magicians, jugglers, and musicians, as well as living human curiosities and freaks, which caused so much comment when the Big Show was in Europe. The whole mammoth institution will be here on eighty-six cars, on October 7th, and the street parade, with the grand united team of forty horses, will be given in the morning.

A BLESSING IN DISGUISE?

The fact that the weather is dry does not prove that the soil is not receiving a benefit which will be much in evidence next year. A well-posted friend of mine at one time asserted that a drouth is essential to bring to the surface certain elements in the soil which would otherwise fail to exert the latent power in developing vegetation. If this be the case next year will be the "farmers' year." This is the time to select the farm you want and buy it. Mason County farms are going to be in demand this fall and winter. I have some of the best ones in the county for sale at reasonable prices. Yours with farms for sale.

A Recapitulation.

Two years and eight months ago we arrived in Maysville, without a friend or an acquaintance (except one and this one was soon to leave). To-day if customers are friends we have the longest list in Maysville.

What have we done in less than three years, we THREE boys? We have built up the largest business in Maysville, we have raised the standard of goods, we have lowered the price on same, we have awakened the entire community to the necessity of up-to-date merchandising, we have doubled the advertising of the newspapers, we employ more help than all the other dry goods stores in Maysville together, in fact we have forced more improvements in less than three years than any fifteen years of Maysville history.

AND WE HAVE ONLY STARTED. The best goods for the least money has been our success. We are after your dollars but in return we will give you a BIGGER AND BETTER DOLLAR'S WORTH than any other store in Kentucky.

Watch us grow.

MISS BLANCHE MOLLOY.

Oldest Daughter of Rev. Dr. J. C. Molloy
Died Thursday at Russellville, Ky.

A telegram Thursday afternoon brought the sad news of the death of Miss Blanche Molloy, oldest daughter of Rev. Dr. J. C. Molloy of this city. She passed away Thursday morning at the home of Captain and Mrs. Moore, of Russellville, Ky., with whom she had lived for several years. Miss Molloy was about thirty years of age and had been in failing health several months. Her father left Tuesday for Russellville, and was with her in her closing hours.

On account of her death, there will be no services at the Central Presbyterian Church next Sunday.

D. HUNT & SON.

Old and Popular Firm's Elegant
New Store Opened Thursday.

Many Were the Expressions of Delighted
Surprise and Hearty Congratulations.

"What a beautiful store!"

"It's just elegant!"

"Complete in all its handsome furnishings and appointments!"

These and similar expressions of delighted surprise were heard on every hand from the large crowd that thronged D. Hunt & Son's elegant new store Thursday.

It was the formal opening of this new store, after many vexatious delays consequent upon the remodeling and refurnishing of the interior. The building is the handsome structure on Second street so long occupied by the old and honored firm of Geo. Cox & Son that recently retired from business after an honorable and successful career of nearly 100 years in our city. It is fitting indeed that the next oldest firm in Maysville, that of D. Hunt & Son, should succeed to this long established business site. D. Hunt & Son and Geo. Cox & Son have been inseparably identified with the dry goods trade of Maysville for over a half century.

The business of the firm of D. Hunt & Son, under its up-to-date and progressive management, has grown so rapidly in recent years that more commodious quarters had become an absolute necessity, and the firm was certainly fortunate in effecting a lease of the handsome store so long its rival. A better building and a better location for the dry goods business are not to be had in Maysville.

In remodeling and refurnishing the first floor, the show cases, counters and shelving on the side were extended almost the full length of the room, giving a much larger space for the display of goods, and in addition handsome semi-circular show cases and counters have been fitted up in the middle of the room, with the cashier's desk occupying an elevation in the center. The new fixtures are elegantly finished throughout.

Not only has the interior been remodeled and refurnished, but the business has been departmentized, so to speak. On the first floor is found the general dry goods department, including the notions novelties, &c. The second and third floors are reached both by elevator and easy stairways. On the second floor are found the carpets, rugs, muslin underwear, lace curtains and upholstery departments, in the north half of the room, while the cloaks, ready-to-wear suits and millinery departments occupy the front of this floor. The millinery department has just been added. The third floor is occupied by the oil, cloth, matting and window shade departments.

The store was handsomely decorated throughout, for the opening, this being the artistic work of Mr. W. L. Boughton, a graduate of the Bond Institute of New York who has been secured especially for this purpose. He is certainly an artist in his line, and his work was greatly admired.

This firm is deserving of the many hearty congratulations and sincere good wishes extended on the opening of the elegant new store. D. Hunt & Son has long been a household word in Maysville and surrounding country, and as successful as has been its past, a still brighter and better future certainly awaits the firm in its new store home.

ANOTHER OIL STRIKE.

Fine Flow of Green Oil Found at Depth of Sixty-Three Feet Near Germantown.

Henderson & Adams, contractors, drilling for the Frisbie & Galbreath Oil Company on the North Fork near Bridgeville in Bracken County, ran into the sand in their third well getting a fine showing of green oil at the unprecedented depth of sixty feet. This was drilled in one day. They have no "dry" wells.

The drillers say the company's success is remarkable, as the territory has been classed as "wild cat."

The following from this city attended the Democratic Senatorial convention at Vanceburg Wednesday: Congressman Jas. N. Kehoe, Hon. C. B. Poyntz, Judge C. D. Newell, Messrs. C. L. Sallee, T. D. Slattery, C. Burgess Taylor, Isaac Woodward, Jas. W. Fitzgerald, Jas. Mackey M. J. McCarthy.

Mr. Wood Louderbach and Miss Minnie Scott, both of this city, were married at Aberdeen Tuesday, September 29th. They are worthy and industrious young people, and their friends wish them every happiness.

Family Separated by Misfortunes.

[Cincinnati Post.]

Extremes of wealth and poverty have been experienced by William Thomas and his wife, Malissa, who Tuesday placed their four little children in the Children's Home. Mrs. Thomas, after taking leave of the children, secured employment with a Covington family as a housemaid. The father, who is a cripple, went to live with a sister in Ripley, O.

Four years ago Thomas owned a farm of 580 acres on Beasley Creek, Mason County, Ky. A handsome residence on it was luxuriously furnished. Misfortune and bad management reduced the family to poverty, and the parents and children were obliged to part.

River News.

The Lizzie Bay is making tri-weekly trips in the Cincinnati-Portsmouth trade during the low water.

Twelve government barges, two coal-flats for St. Louis and three model barges for the Barrett line are being built at the Barrett boat and barge-building plant at Levanna, O.

James Rees & Son, of Pittsburg, have three steel-hulled freight and passenger boats under contract, one each for Jamaica, Nicaragua and Mexico. The same firm has just completed the United States snagboat, Theo. Schwan, and the tow-boat, Clyde.

Owing to the absence of Dr. J. C. Molloy, there will be no services at the Central Presbyterian Church next Sunday.
